A Message from Congressman Jason Crow

Dear Neighbors,

As the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) public health crisis continues to unfold in Colorado, I want to make sure you have the information and assistance you need. I have compiled this resource guide so you know where to find help. This guide will be updated as the situation evolves. For recent general information, visit the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment’s comprehensive COVID-19 website. You can also call the CO Help COVID-19 Hotline at 303-389-1687 or 1-877-462-2911.

I have also launched a new resource page on my website for Coloradans seeking information about the coronavirus. Colorado’s 6th District is the most diverse in the state, so the information page provides resources in 13 different languages, including Amharic, Spanish, and Korean, among others. You can visit the website here.

This crisis is daunting, but we will come together as a community and take care of one another. I am working hard on behalf of the people of Colorado’s Sixth District to provide federal aid. On March 27, 2020 I voted for the bipartisan Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security “CARES” Act (or “Stimulus 3”), a $2 trillion disaster relief package to provide emergency assistance and health care response for individuals, families and small businesses affected by this pandemic.

On March 14, 2020, I voted for the bipartisan Families First Coronavirus Response Act (or “Stimulus 2”), which has now been signed into law. This law provides for free coronavirus testing, bolsters sick and family leave, expands food programs, and enhances unemployment compensation measures. These programs will help keep Americans healthy and better ensure that no one has to decide between missing a paycheck or staying home sick.

On March 6, 2020, I voted for the bipartisan Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act (or “Stimulus 1”), which released $8.3 billion in emergency funding, including over $9 million for Colorado, to bolster our health care system and authorize $7 billion in economic injury disaster loan to small businesses across the country. There is more work to be done in the coming weeks and months. For up to date information on actions I have taken to help Coloradans, please take a look at my website, crow.house.gov.

Measures like social distancing and self-isolation are effective - and we have a responsibility to those around us. As of March 26th, the State of Colorado has a stay at home order in place. Taking these precautions means protecting our neighbors and those who are most vulnerable to illness in our community. If you are able to do more, I encourage you to visit Help Colorado Now for information on how to volunteer or donate.

My team and I are teleworking right now as we practice social distancing. Although our office is not accepting walk-ins at this time, we are still available to help you navigate federal processes, from Medicare to veterans benefits. You can email my office, or call and leave a voicemail for us at 720-748-7514. We are here to help.

Best,

Jason Crow, Colorado’s 6th Congressional District

Background on COVID-19

COVID-19, or “coronavirus disease 2019,” is a recently identified novel coronavirus. The virus causing COVID-19, is not the same as the coronaviruses that commonly circulate among humans and cause mild illness, like the common cold. The current outbreak began in December, 2019, in Wuhan, China, and has since spread across the globe, including thousands of cases in Colorado. You can find more detailed data for Colorado here.

What is COVID-19?
COVID-19 is a respiratory illness that can spread from person to person. The virus that causes COVID-19 is a novel coronavirus. Other coronaviruses include the virus that causes the common cold, as well viruses that cause more serious illnesses, such as Middle East Respiratory Syndrome (MERS) and Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS). As of March 29, 2020, there is no vaccine to prevent COVID-19.

The majority of people who get COVID-19 only experience mild to moderate symptoms and will recover without receiving special treatment. According to the World Health Organization, about 1 in every 6 people who get COVID-19 develop more severe illness and may require hospitalization. Certain people are at much higher risk of severe illness should they become infected with COVID-19. People who are higher-risk include:

- Older people (over age 60), and especially those over 80.
- Pregnant women
- People with asthma
- People who have chronic medical conditions like heart, lung, or kidney disease, or diabetes.

Common COVID-19 symptoms include fever, cough, and shortness of breath. Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure to the virus. Some patients may also have aches and pains, nasal congestion, runny nose, sore throat, or diarrhea. These symptoms are usually mild and begin gradually.

How is COVID-19 spread, and what can we do to slow the spread?
The virus that causes COVID-19 spreads from person to person. It is thought to spread mainly through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. These droplets can land in the mouths or noses of people who are nearby, or possibly be inhaled into the lungs. Preliminary studies suggest that the virus can also survive on surfaces for a few hours, or even several days. When respiratory droplets containing the virus land on surfaces, they may later be transported to the mouth or nose by hands or food.

The spread of COVID-19 endangers everyone within our community, and it is up to every one of us to slow it down. Even those of us with a lower risk of severe illness have a responsibility to our more vulnerable neighbors, for whom the virus could be fatal. If we work together to slow community spread of COVID-19, we can reduce the number of people who get COVID-19 before an effective treatment or vaccine is available, and protect those most likely to experience severe symptoms. Slowing community spread also means protecting our healthcare system, so it is not overwhelmed and can continue to care for all people in our community. To slow community spread, it is imperative that every member of our community practice social distancing as much as possible. Stay at home at all times, unless seeking medical assistance, performing essential tasks (for example, obtaining groceries), or performing work that has been deemed essential. If you must go out, maintain six feet of distance between yourself and any other person. As of March 26, 2020, Governor Jared Polis and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment have issued a “Stay-At-Home” Order to ensure social distancing is being practiced in our state and our community. This Public Health Order will remain in effect until April 26, 2020, unless updated at a later time.

Staying at home is a sacrifice and can be difficult - but it is something we each have a responsibility to do, to keep ourselves and our neighbors healthy and safe. Find connection despite the distance. Reach out to your friends and family via phone or social media. Offer emotional support, and do not be afraid to ask for it in return. If you need help, you can always talk to someone:

Colorado Crisis Services: 1-844-493-8255 or text “TALK” to 38255
Disaster Distress Helpline: 1-800-985-5990 or text “TalkWithUs” to 66746
TTY for Deaf/Hard of Hearing: 1-800-846-8517
Spanish speakers: Text “Hablanos” to 66746

We can each lower our own risk of becoming infected with COVID-19, or of infecting others, by paying attention to hygiene and the cleanliness of our surroundings. CDPHE recommends that you:

- Frequently and thoroughly wash your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol.
- Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash, or use your inner elbow or sleeve.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Stay home if you’re sick, and keep your children home if they are sick.
- Clean surfaces in your home, and personal items such as cell phones, using regular household products.

CDPHE has released guidance on environmental cleaning to prevent the spread of COVID-19, which you can find in English and in several other languages here.

What should I do if I think I have COVID-19?

If you think you have been exposed to COVID-19, and develop a fever and symptoms such as a cough or difficulty breathing, call your healthcare provider or local clinic. It is important to call ahead to prevent the spread of illness. Stay home, except to get medical care if necessary. Isolate yourself from others within your home by staying in a designated “sick room,” and use a separate bathroom from others if you can. Cover your coughs and sneezes, and wash your hands frequently and thoroughly. The Tri-County Health Department has detailed instructions on what to do if you are sick here.

Watch for emergency warning signs for COVID-19. If you or a family member develops any of these symptoms, seek medical attention immediately. Call 911 if you have a medical emergency, and tell the operator you have, or might have, COVID-19. Emergency warning signs include:

- Trouble breathing
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to rouse
- Bluish lips or face

What is a “Stay-At-Home” Order and what does it mean for me?

Governor Jared Polis, and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, have issued a “Stay-At-Home” Order to ensure social distancing is being practiced in our state and our community. This order went into effect at 8am, March 26, 2020, and will remain in effect until April 26, 2020. Under a Stay-at-Home Order, everyone must remain in their place of residence at all times, with certain exceptions. It is unlawful to disobey a Public Health Order. You may leave your home if you meet one of the following exceptions:

- Getting medical care for you, a family member or your pet
- Visiting a healthcare professional
- Getting medical supplies or medication
- Getting groceries, food (via takeout, drive-thru, food banks/pantries) or other essential household items
- Getting necessary supplies to work from home
• Picking up materials from your child’s school necessary for distance learning (e.g., tablet, books)
• Going outside for physical activity--as long as you stay at least 6 feet away from people who do not live in your household (i.e., follow social distancing practices)
• Going to work, ONLY if you provide essential products or services at an essential business such as health care operations, infrastructure operations and maintenance, certain government functions.

CDPHE states that “This order will be enforced by any appropriate legal means. Local authorities are encouraged to determine the best course of action to encourage maximum compliance. Failure to comply with this order could result in penalties including a fine of up to one thousand (1,000) dollars and imprisonment in the county jail for up to one year, pursuant to 25-1-114, C.R.S.”

Who is eligible for stimulus payments, and how can I get mine?
Under the CARES Act, eligible taxpayers who filed tax returns for either 2019 or 2018 will automatically receive an economic impact payment of up to $1,200 for individuals or $2,400 for married couples and up to $500 for each qualifying child. Tax filers with adjusted gross income up to $75,000 for individuals and up to $150,000 for married couples filing joint returns will receive the full payment. For filers with income above those amounts, the payment amount is reduced by $5 for each $100 above the $75,000/$150,000 thresholds. Single filers with income exceeding $99,000 and $198,000 for joint filers with no children are not eligible. Social Security recipients and railroad retirees who are otherwise not required to file a tax return are also eligible. A Social Security Number (SSN) is the main criteria for determining eligibility for the economic impact payments, so DACA and TPS recipients who have obtained an SSN should be eligible.

To receive your economic impact payment, The vast majority of people do not need to take any action. The IRS will calculate and automatically send the economic impact payment to those eligible. For people who have already filed their 2019 tax returns, the IRS will use this information to calculate the payment amount. For those who have not yet filed their return for 2019, the IRS will use information from their 2018 tax filing to calculate the payment. The economic impact payment will be deposited directly into the same banking account reflected on the return filed.

For more details and the recent information, visit the IRS’s page on economic impact payments here.
Preventing Stigma

What is stigma?
Stigma occurs when people associate a risk with a specific people, place, or thing – like a minority population group – and there is no evidence that the risk is greater in that group than in the general population. Stigmatization is especially common in disease outbreaks.

Public health emergencies, such as the outbreak of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), are stressful times for people and communities. Fear and anxiety about a disease can lead to social stigma toward people, places, or things. For example, stigma and discrimination can occur when people associate a disease, such as COVID-19, with a population or nationality, even though not everyone in that population or from that region is specifically at risk for the disease. Stigma can also occur after a person has been released from COVID-19 quarantine even though they are not considered a risk for spreading the virus to others.

Why do we need to prevent stigma?
Stigma hurts everyone by creating fear or anger towards other people. Stigmatized groups may be subjected to social avoidance or rejection, denials of healthcare, education, housing, or employment, and threats of violence. Stigma affects the emotional wellbeing and mental health of stigmatized groups and the communities they live in. Stopping stigma is important to making communities and community members resilient.

How can we prevent stigma?
Everyone can help stop stigma related to COVID-19 by knowing the facts and sharing them with others in your community. Speak up when you hear misinformation, and show compassion for those who are most closely impacted by the virus and stigma associated with it. Stay informed through reputable, trusted sites:

- Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

It is important to remember that people of one race, nationality, or ethnicity - including those of Asian descent - are not at greater risk of spreading COVID-19 than other Americans. Viruses don’t discriminate, and neither should we. For more information on preventing stigma, click here.

If you have an appointment:
As of March 18, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services has suspended routine in-person services until at least April 1 to help slow the spread of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). USCIS staff will continue to perform duties that do not involve contact with the public. However, USCIS will provide emergency services for limited situations. To schedule an emergency appointment contact the USCIS Contact Center.

USCIS domestic field offices will send notices to applicants and petitioners with scheduled appointments and naturalization ceremonies impacted by this closure. USCIS asylum offices will send interview cancellation notices and automatically reschedule asylum interviews. When the interview is rescheduled, asylum applicants will receive a new interview notice with the new time, date and location for the interview. When USCIS again resumes normal operations, USCIS will automatically reschedule Application Support Center appointments due to the office closure. You will receive a new appointment letter in the mail. Individuals who had InfoPass or other appointments at the field office must reschedule through the USCIS Contact Center, once field offices reopen to the public. Please check the USCIS Field Offices page to see if your field office has reopened before reaching out to the USCIS Contact Center.

Tax Day is now July 15:
The Federal Income Tax filing due date has been automatically extended from April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020. Taxpayers can also defer federal income tax payments due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. This deferral applies to all taxpayers, including individuals, corporations and other non-corporate tax filers as well as those who pay self-employment tax. For more information, visit: www.irs.gov/newsroom/irs-operations-during-covid-19-mission-critical-functions-continue

Governor Jared Polis has also issued an extension on state income tax returns and payments. Income tax returns that were due on April 15, 2020 are now due October 15, 2020, and payments are due on July 15, 2020.
